Battleground Overview

Battleground is an award-winning, software-driven consultancy specialising in risk, resilience, business continuity, and crisis management. We partner with small, medium and large organisations, providing software infrastructure and pragmatic consulting expertise. We view our clients as partners, working closely to understand their specific needs and challenges, and offering continuous support and guidance.

Software

Battleground Live: Battleground Live is a cloud-based risk and resilience platform designed to help organisations automate business continuity, crisis and emergency management processes. The platform is intuitive and easy to use, minimising the learning curve and maximising user adoption. It incorporates advanced technologies like AI-driven insights and automated workflows. Our software solutions are available on both mobile and web platforms, allowing users to manage their risk and resilience needs from anywhere.

Consulting Products

Crisis Simulation and Business Continuity Exercises: We conduct comprehensive crisis simulation exercises to evaluate understanding and business response to disruptions. Our unique approach includes the Resilience Star and PRISE principle (People, Reputation, Infrastructure, Site, External Parties). Exercises build capability and include hot debriefs, flash reports, participant questionnaires, and detailed final reports. We also offer targeted training sessions and support virtual and multi-site exercises through our Battleground Live software.

Risk Management and Resilience Consulting: We focus on resilience, business continuity, crisis management, emergency management and operational risk management. Our services include but are not limited to business continuity uplift, emergency response and crisis response governance frameworks, building BIAs and developing all types of plans.

Virtual Chief Risk Officer (vCRO): Our vCRO service provides part-time strategic risk advisory support, including annual risk management plans, enterprise risk profiles, risk registers, risk workshops, governance reports, and training for board directors and senior leaders.

Regulatory Change Consulting: We help organisations navigate regulatory changes, such as the DORA Operational Risk program, by supporting operations mapping, business continuity documentation upgrades, and ensuring compliance. We also facilitate a Community of Practice for 30+ of our clients, supporting knowledge sharing and benchmarking across sectors.
